Modules can be easily taken out from the pull-out system. Keep plate and bowls modules next to the sink while doing the dishes – bowls and plates can be placed directly into the modules. When the cleaning of the dishes is done, put the filled modules back into diningAGENT.

No more worries about the water dripping from the plates – the trays underneath the metal holder will save the drawer from the water. And not only the drawer!

Metal holders are located a bit higher than the tray level, your plates will not be standing in the water.

diningAGENT · FOR CHINESE FAMILIES

GERMAN APPROCHE FOR A SUCCESSFUL PRODUCT DEVELOPMENT.

Deep analysis of cooking habits and commonly used tableware in China was carried out to bring diningAGENT to the market.

We studied which tableware is normally used in Chinese family, how many bowls and plates are used per a household, how the bowls and plates should be fixed inside of the pull-out system to keep them safe, how to take the plates fast and easy out of holders. That's a German approach for a successful product development.
